U. S. Ready To Write Off Indochina Talk As Failure

Red Tactics Must Change, Yanks Believe

Top Diplomats Continue Effort To Find Accord In South Asia Situation

GENEVA (AP)—The United States was reported today to be ready to write off the Indochina peace negotiations as a failure unless the Communists drastically change their line. However, top diplomats were holding private talks which may determine the fate of the parley.

Formal negotiations were suspended for the day. The latest snarl was due to continued Red demands that the Communist "resistance governments" of Laos and Cambodia be invited to Geneva. The Western powers regarded these as phantom regimes with no following and no right to representation.

One high Western source acknowledged Western diplomats had given some thought to the question of breaking off the talks. The source said it was impossible at this stage to see any sign the Communists were going to agree to anything.

The U. S. delegation was represented as feeling the Indochina discussions were getting nowhere. The Americans were said to be reluctant to break up the conference, however, the French feel air possibilities have been exhausted.

NEGOTIATIONS dragged to a complete standstill last night after three long secret sessions between the nine participating delegations. A proposal by Eden for a one-day "cooling off" period was accepted, and the talks were suspended until tomorrow afternoon.

During the layoff in formal talks, Eden, representing the Western Big Three, hoped to find a solution in conferences with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Communist Chinese Premier-For- eign Minister Chou En-lai.

Chiang Calling For Western Aid

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek began his second term as president of Nationalist China today with a call for more military support and a strong alliance of anti-Communist Asian nations.

Chiang declared that his Nationalist armies could recover the mainland of China if given a "reasonable amount of moral and material support from the free world and an adequate supply of the implements of war."

He also called on all Asian nations facing a threat of Red invasion to "establish on the Communist periphery a strong collective organization capable of collective action."

Jet Pilot Killed

DAYTON (AP)—An Air Force pilot was killed here last night when a T33 jet trainer plunged 15,000 feet and crashed on the runway at near-by Wright-Patterson Air Force Base only seven minutes after take-off. He was identified as Capt. Victor Kenneth Todd, 36, of Milford, Conn.

West Coalition To Aid Indo May Strain U. S.-Anglo Ties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any initial coalition formed to deal with the war in Indochina probably will be set up without the British, and officials here fear this will impose new strains on American-British relations.

U. S. authorities said today this government would not under any circumstances cease to hope and work for an active British role in the united front which President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are trying to create.

But present British policy bars any commitments until the outcome of the Geneva conference on an Indochina armistice is known. That may be many weeks away.

The United States, and apparently France and several other interested nations, are not willing to wait that long. If other problems can be solved, it is possible that some kind of informal coalition can be set up in the near future.

Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday he thought that a workable united front could be arranged provided the proper Asian nations and Australia and New Zealand would join.

State Department officials are confident those qualifications can be met, once various preliminary events are out of the way.

One of these is the development of an understanding with the French as to the conditions under which the United States might intervene in the Indochina war as a member of an alliance. Another is the forthcoming election in Australia (May 28, American time), after which the Australian government may quickly harden its own policy lines.

Today, after his meeting with the National Security Council, Eisenhower was due to receive New Zealand's foreign minister, T. Clifton Webb, on his way home from the Geneva conference, together with Secretary of State Dulles and New Zealand's envoy here, Leslie Knox Munro.

That conference afforded the President an opportunity to use (Continued on Page Two)

Columnist Says McCarthy's Hot Letter 'Dull Reading'

NEW YORK (AP)—Columnist Walter Winchell said today he had burned a copy of the secret "FBI letter" given to him under mysterious circumstances at the time it set off an uproar in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Winchell, who termed it "very dull reading," said he destroyed the copy after consulting various government officials, and after the attorney general ruled it contained security data.

However, he said he had been informed that about 35 copies of the so-called 2½-page "letter," summarizing a classified FBI memorandum, were in circulation.

He said he understood that newspaper people have most of them.

Winchell earlier had related in his syndicated column how someone handed him the copy during a recess in the Washington hearings.

Asked about the whereabouts of the letter today, Winchell said he destroyed it since "no one asked for it back."

"There was just nothing to it," he said. "After all the fireworks, if it were made public, the result would be quite a letdown."

"In my opinion, it was pretty routine stuff. There was nothing to it but a list of names. If I were told right now that I could print the text, I don't think I would even use it."

The "letter" was produced at the hearing by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) who claimed it contained warnings of Communist espionage in radar laboratories and that the Army had ignored it.

McCarthy said he got it from an

New Charge Filed Against Beater Of Boy

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Mansfield Reformatory parolee, arrested after a badly beaten little boy was found on railroad tracks, today admitted raping a 39-year-old grandmother, police said.

The woman, who was not named, reported the assault to police after seeing Clarence Jones' picture in a newspaper. She said the attack occurred April 29.

Police confronted Jones with the woman and said he later admitted the assault, giving details the grandmother had not mentioned.

Jones signed a statement yesterday that he was the man who picked up 4-year-old Kenny Broyles, who was found lying on tracks under a street overpass. The youngster's thigh was broken and his head and body bore bruises.

When Jones was brought into his hospital room, the boy asked police: "Where did you get that man?" He's the man who pushed me out of the car."

Jones, police said, told of picking up the youngster but could not remember much of what happened after that.

"When I'm drunk I don't know what I'm doing," he was quoted as saying.

Declaring that "I like little kids," Jones added he really meant to take the boy to a carnival as he had promised. But then, the 25-year-old man said, "I got jealous because I didn't have a boy of my own."

In 1948, he was convicted of beating a mother of two small children with a lawn mower roller and of trying to rape her. He was paroled from Mansfield Reformatory in February 1953.

Bill Terry's Tips For First Sacker Featured Today

Digging up the dirt is an honorable art—as long as the ball comes with it.

It's only one of dozens of tips handed out to the "kid baseball" players in today's issue of The Herald, when Bill Terry takes his turn at the how-to-play clinic.

The former New York Giants manager and first baseman, the last National League to hit above .400 for a season, warns that the ability to field throws in the dirt is a "must" for any first-sacker.

Terry, elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame last January, succeeded the great John McGraw as Giant manager, and went on to win three pennants in his 10 years as pilot.

In today's installment on "Here's Baseball," found on the sports pages, Terry criticizes the idea that a player should be put at first just because he doesn't fit in anywhere else. And he tells the youngsters—and the older players still willing to learn—how important it is to stretch for the ball.

The next installment, to be carried soon by The Herald, will be the important chapter for young pitchers. Don't miss it.

Canton Man Gets Tax Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has agreed to settle income tax claims of $128,746 against Carl F. Zeno of Canton, Ohio, for $11,876.07, Tax Court records show.

In his court petition, Zeno admitted that during the years he was accused of evading certain tax payments (1948-51) he was helping to run a baseball gambling pool in Canton. Zeno stated he had piled up considerable winnings but declared he kept none of this money for himself, but turned all of his winnings over to a man he identified as Sidney Abrams of Pittsburgh.

Ex-Ohioan Guilty In Inlaw Shooting

GREENUP, Ky. (AP)—A circuit court jury yesterday convicted a former Wheelersburg, Ohio, man of malicious shooting with intent to kill in the wounding of his brother-in-law, Marvin Munn.

The jury fixed punishment for Kenneth Chaffins, 38, of near Fullerton at 44 years in prison.

Munn, 44, stripped to the waist during the trial to show the court 13 bullet wounds he said were inflicted by Chaffins at the home of Munn's estranged wife, Frances, Chaffins' sister. Chaffins said he divorced his wife because she had been too friendly with Munn.

Nicaragua's action, these sources indicated, was not directly related to the arms shipment which President Eisenhower described yesterday as "disturbing."

But observers said it probably would help speed a showdown on the whole situation in Guatemala.

McCarthy Boycott Of Hearing Can't Be Halted, Solon Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said today he knows no way senators investigating Sen. McCarthy's row with Army officials could force the Wisconsin Republican to take the stand if he should decide to walk out.

McCarthy has left in doubt the course he may follow when hearings resume Monday. He may fail to show up or refuse to testify. Law prevents arrest of a U. S. senator except for treason, a felony or breach of peace. Unlike witnesses who have appeared before the senator and refused to talk, the senator, himself, cannot be cited for contempt.

Potter and several other members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee expressed belief a major obstacle to continuance of the hearings had been removed by a statement from Secretary of the Army Stevens shouldering full responsibility for Army charges against the Wisconsin senator. This followed President Eisenhower's refusal to modify an executive order against some testimony.

McCarthy's complaint about continuing the televised hearings with a "stacked deck" prompted speculation in Congress that he might decline to testify personally and call for what he has characterized as a directed verdict in his favor.

McCarthy told newsmen he is "at a loss on just what to do."

The subcommittee scheduled a closed-door meeting this afternoon. McCarthy said he will attend if he's invited.

If he does attend, McCarthy said, he does not plan to ask them for a "directed verdict."

Potter said: "If the McCarthy side says it has disproved the Army's case and proved its own charges through cross-examination and can't go on, in the face of the President's order, I don't know how the committee could force them to."

Any such action by McCarthy would be in the face of Eisenhower's call yesterday for testimony from all the principals and demands of Democratic subcommittee members that all principals be heard in public.

The White House gave added emphasis to the President's news conference remarks by permitting direct quotation of much that he had to say.

The President said he was "astonished" by talk that his injunction against certain testimony would be used as an excuse for calling off the hearings, and he added: "Far from me trying to get any investigation off the track, I was merely trying to keep it on the rails."

He again said he hopes the hearings will be completed quickly because they are diverting attention from more important matters.

Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams have accused McCarthy and two aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, of bringing improper pressure on the Army for favored treatment for a former associate, Pvt. G. David Schine.

McCarthy responded with charges that Stevens and Adams used Schine as a "hostage" in an attempt to shut off an investigation of alleged Communists in the Army.

McCarthy told a news conference last night he had tried, but failed, to get a date with Eisenhower "about a week before this thing exploded" in mid-March.

He said he had wanted to tell Eisenhower then that "I suspected he was not getting all the facts" about the row then simmering between McCarthy, Stevens and other top Army people.

At his request, McCarthy said, his friend Victor Johnson telephoned the White House to arrange an appointment. He said Johnson, director of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, talked to Wilton B. Persons, legislative liaison aide at the White House.

Persons agreed to telephone back if he lined up the appointment, McCarthy said, but "he hasn't called yet."

Asked whether he regarded this as a presidential "snub," McCarthy replied, "No, he's a busy man."

Heavy Stocks From Past To Top Records

Farmers Reminded Facilities Needed Prior To Loans

Pickaway County will soon be faced with "the most serious grain storage problem in the history of the district," Farm Agent Larry Best warned here Thursday.

Even with average yields, he predicted, Pickaway County is expected to harvest more grain than was harvested last year. And the extent of the storage problem for this area will be determined by the size of the 1954 harvests.

When the United States 1954 grain and oil seed crops are harvested, total supplies are expected to reach all-time record levels, he said.

Best, as head of the county extension office, is district spokesman for the College of Agriculture of Ohio State University.

ELABORATING on his warning to district farmers, he said: "Very heavy stocks from other years will be carried over and be on hand when the 1954 crop is harvested. The estimated carry-over of corn and wheat is the largest on record. There are more than 850 million bushels of wheat compared to 562 million bushels a year ago. And there are about 900 million bushels of corn compared to 769 million bushels last year.

This year's production, added to the carryover supplies, is bound to result in a very serious storage situation.

"The United States is expected to harvest from 300 to 500 million bushels more grain and oil seeds than were harvested last year. If yields are better than average, the problem will be increased. Another complication in the problem is the fact that the Commodity Credit Corporation will already hold, or will have taken over, a large amount of government and other storage facilities because of their large inventory of grain and oil seeds.

"Even by using emergency ship storage, and with some new commercial storage, it now appears there will be from 150 to 250 million bushels of the 1954 grain crop that cannot be protected from rain, rodents and insects. Good storage is essential for the effective operation of the price support programs.

"Pickaway County farmers must have their 1954 crops in satisfactory storage facilities in order to qualify for the price-support loans. (Continued on Page Two)

Boy, 16, From Williamsport In Critical Condition After Accident

A 16-year old Williamsport boy is in critical condition in University Hospital in Columbus as the result of being thrown from the rear of a truck at 7:40 p. m. Wednesday. According to reports, Ronald Jones suffered a skull fracture and abrasions of his left hip when he fell from the rear of a flatbed truck driven by his uncle, Benny Jones, 47, of Circleville Route 2, about 10 miles northwest of here.

Another boy, 12-year-old Larry Eitel, of Circleville Route 3, was thrown from the back of the truck and had several teeth knocked out in addition to shock and skin burns on his face and hands. He is in Berger Hospital. Benny Jones is scheduled to appear before Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer at 1 p. m. Thursday to face an accusation of driving while his license was under revocation. According to deputies Dwight Radcliff and Carl White, of the sheriff's department, Jones' license was suspended over a year ago after a conviction of manslaughter. Although his suspension was up in April, Jones never bothered to get his license back, according to the deputies.

This is the version of the accident related by Deputy Radcliff: Jones had been to a farm to help Dan Eitel of Circleville Route 3, Larry's father, plant some corn. Jones and Eitel got into the cab of the truck to return home while the two boys got on the back, despite a warning by Eitel.

AS JONES went south on Derby-Darbyville Rd., he approached the dead end intersection of the road with Route 316. He told the deputies that he applied his brakes but they didn't hold.

Jones, in order to avoid hitting the fence which guards the dead end, swerved left around the corner. A few feet beyond, he said, the truck came to a halt.

Dan Eitel told the deputies the same story. He said Jones was only going about 20 miles per hour. He added that Jones had cried out, "My God, the brakes don't hold!"

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said he ordered an immediate check on the truck's brakes. A Circleville mechanic reported the brake lining was broken and that it was his opinion the brakes had not been faulty previous to the accident.

Benny Jones is on three years probation in connection with the traffic death, in 1952, of Etta Sowards, of Cambridge, whose car (Continued on Page Two)

Irish Election Seen Ousting Aging Premier

DUBLIN (AP)—Former Premier John A. Costello's coalition appeared almost certain today to tumble Prime Minister Eamon de Valera from office. Counting of ballots in Ireland's parliamentary elections entered its final phase.

De Valera's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) party was still the republic's largest faction, but in the voting yesterday it polled about 10 per cent under its showing in the election three years ago.

In 1951 the forces of the 71-year-old, "Dev" just squeezed into office. In recent months they had only a two-vote majority in the 147-seat Dail (parliament).

It appeared that Costello's coalition would not command much more of a majority.

With 144 seats at stake in the voting, the count had given 66 to the coalition, 59 to Fianna Fail and 4 to independents.

This was the standing in the coalition: Costello's Fine Gael (United Ireland), 43; Labor, 15; Clann Na Talmhan (farmers), 5; Poblachta (Republicans) 3.

The campaign was waged solely on domestic issues. Costello charged De Valera had not pursued a sufficiently vigorous domestic policy to improve Ireland's economic lot.

Circus 'Borrows' New 'Big Top'

NEWARK (AP)—There was cause for celebration today by folks in the King Bros. Circus. They had a big top.

It's a borrowed one, perhaps not as good as the one on a truck that got "lost" last weekend between Middletown and Portsmouth, but at least there'll be no more open air performances.

While five states were on the lookout for the big canvas, the show has been going on. And lucky for the circus, there have been no rains to spoil the show. The circus was here for afternoon and evening performances.

Burke Is Added To Probe Panel

In making the assignment yesterday, the Senate took Burke off the District of Columbia panel.

Heavy Stocks From Past To Top Records

It is a good guess that grain price at harvest time will be far below the price-support loan.

"EACH INDIVIDUAL farmer has the responsibility of making sure that storage is available for his 1954 grain crop, either on his own farm or in commercial storage. "Elevators, commercial storage services and the government will do what they can to assist in providing for more storage facilities for the 1954 grain crop. But with the anticipated need for new storage to accommodate from 150 to 250 million bushels of the 1954 crop, it is very unlikely that adequate new public storage will be built to solve the problem.

"It appears that it will be good business on the part of many Pickaway County farmers to build their own storage for this year and for future years. It is evident that this country plans to maintain a substantial stock pile of grains and oil seeds from year to year.

"If a farmer does not have a storage, grain must then be sold at harvest time on an already glutted market, which many times means a selling price 40 to 50 cents per bushel under support prices. The loss on such sales in many instances will pay for enough good storage to care for the one crop alone.

"There are now programs provided by the government that will assist in helping to secure needed storage and drying equipment. Through Federal Income Tax, the cost of such storage can be amortized over a five year period.

"A farmer who will have a sizable quantity of grain to sell should take steps now to assure his crop of suitable storage, in order that he can be in a position to secure the benefits of the price support program, assist in the orderly marketing of grain, and help stabilize the market.

"Act now, to get the true value from your grain crops!" Further information on the need for grain storage and drying equipment can be secured from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office or the Agricultural Extension Office.

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (U)—Small grains firmed after a steady start on the Board of Trade today with oats particularly husky. Corn eased slightly and wheat developed a softer undertone going into the afternoon.

Fats and oils pursued a lower course. Old-crop July soybeans weakened after gaining more than eight cents the previous day, and other contracts trailed along into lower ground.

Lard weakened with hogs which were in the best supply since mid-January.

Near noon wheat was 1 to 1 1/2 cents lower; July $1.93; corn was 1/2 off, July $1.53 1/2; oats were 1/2 to 1/4 higher, July 71 1/2, and rye was 1/4 to 1/2 up, July $1.00. Soybeans were 1 1/2 to 5 1/2 cents less, July $3.61, and lard was 22 to 38 cents a hundredweight lower, July $17.25.

Steel Firms Eye Future For Trends

Labor Negotiations, Order Backlog Studied By Pittsburgh Chiefs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The steel industry looks on the next few weeks as its crystal ball.

1. Bargaining starts today with the C.I.O. United Steelworkers. That will settle the question of a strike (a threat of it would needle sales) or of whether wage rates will rise (and operating costs with them).

2. A recent flurry of orders has led many to believe the first two weeks of May have seen the low point reached and a turnabout in order—if it proves only a flurry, the industry will enter the dull summer season with its hopes transferred to fall.

3. The weeks just ahead should show much about the inventory adjustment. If it's about over, there should soon be an end to the price-cutting at the warehouse level, and to the selling of steel by customers who found they had too much on hand. Prices, still holding at the mill, should turn firmer in the outside market.

Optimism for the long-term is strong here.

"We should soon be able to find out what normal peacetime steel demand is," a Pittsburgh official of U. S. Steel says. "Right now we don't know. We're sure that steel consumers, by leveling off inventories, are using more metal than we are producing or selling now. Just as we know that a year ago we were producing more steel than civilian demand called for."

"Abnormal production has ended. Below normal buying should end by fall, at the latest."

"Then we'll know what normal is. And it's sure to be higher than present production."

Pittsburgh Steel's president,

Avery C. Adams, has a slightly different angle. "The high wind of competition is blowing hard now on the weaker companies. You'll soon see who the strong ones are, and who the growing ones are."

His company has just completed a 65 million dollar expansion program and reports orders are coming in fast this month for the new facilities.

All hands agree, however, that this year individual orders call for much smaller tonnage than those of former years. Customers are choosy and cautious.

As a basic industry—steel lists perhaps 40 per cent of U. S. manufacturing firms as customers—its health is highly important to that of the national economy.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reports that in the first four months steel production was 26 per cent below a year ago.

For the companies this meant a drop in sales. For many steelworkers it meant layoffs or reduced work weeks.

T. M. Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel in Cleveland, expects his company's sales to pick up this fall, with 1954 perhaps turning out to be the industry's fifth best year. Orders of the company's alloy steels are already reviving, and men are returning to the mills. E. T. Weir, chairman of national Steel, thinks steel demand many remain down for awhile. But he points out the big postwar expansion program of the industry provided modernized equipment which cuts operating costs and helps lower the brake-even point.

This could have been a factor in keeping steel company earnings from declining by as big a percentage as production did in the first quarter—although the chief factor, probably, was the end of the excess profits tax.

Among bright spots in the steel picture are the mills in the Chicago area which report doing better than the national average, through competitive advantage by nearness to large markets.

And the Wheeling, W. Va., district mills are busily turning out tinplate for can companies, whose busiest season is ahead as the canneries open. The can companies, therefore, are more nervous than some other steel customers and so they aren't taking any chances on a steel strike.

TV Industry Troubles Get New Study

3 Different Fronts Move Against Ills Of Youthful Business

By SAM DAWSON
SYRACUSE — Television's troubles are being tackled today on three fronts.

In Washington some senators are looking into the sad plight of certain TV stations who say they're losing money because they can't get the good network shows, and of about 70 would-be TV stations who say they dropped their grants because of programming difficulties.

In Chicago several group of set manufacturers, parts and equipment makers, and distributors are meeting jointly today to diagnose the ills of an industry beset just now by price cutting and periodically by sprees of over production.

On the producing level—as here in Syracuse, where a lot of TV sets are made—they're talking confidently of progress in color, but concentrating more just now on a new idea or two in black-and-white to stimulate sales next fall when they expect business to pick up.

Dr. Walter R. G. Baker, General Electric vice president and general manager of its electronics division, says the industry's main problem just now is price instability rather than any trouble with coy customers waiting for color sets. He expects as good-as-usual pickup this fall in production and sales of black-and-whites—but with the big question: Who's going to make the sales? Competition was never keener.

Color TV sets will be too expensive for most folk's pocket-books and too small for most folk's tastes for some time yet, he says.

One new black-and-white idea you may see in your TV store this fall will be a set "with the picture on the floor"—a slanted screen that rests on the floor instead of a table. You view the program with your head at the same angle as when you read your newspaper.

TV engineers already have put screens on the ceiling for hospital patients, and think some chair-borne customers are going to be intrigued by the down-look idea.

The Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Assn. reports that, even at the start of the slack TV season, sets are being turned out at a rate of better than 100,000 a week, and home and car radios at better than 167,000 a week.

This association, along with the National Electronic Distributors Assn. and the Assn. of Electronic Parts Equipment Manufacturers, is meeting this week in Chicago to discuss the problems of this traditionally boom-or-bust industry.

"Just as soon as people start buying sets," Dr. Baker points out, "all the manufacturers jump in and soon they're overproducing."

The industry is also watching the hearings now under way in the communications subcommittee of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. Senator Bricker (R-

Good Neighbor Policy Helps Ailing Farmer

MARIETTA, Ohio — "Operation Good Neighbor" came off near here Sunday and when it ended a Washington County farmer was back in business again.

It all began two months ago when farmer Earl A. Nuckles of Newport, Rt. 1, was hospitalized with a heart condition. After five weeks in the hospital, Nuckles was released with the warning by his physician not to work for six months.

For three weeks after leaving the hospital, he watched his 30-acre tract along the Ohio River lay untouched. The time was ripe for planting corn but there was no one to do the work.

Sunday morning as Nuckles looked out he saw 24 tractors lined up along the cornfield. His neighbors and friends started turning over the bottomland with their plows at 8 a. m. then came the harrows and disks, followed by the corn planters. By 1 p. m. the planting was finished and Mr. and Mrs. Nuckles and their three children had been given something that just isn't for sale.

R. E. Dye, assisted by Raymond Warren, was the organizer in the project that accomplished a month's work in half a day.

That wasn't all, either. For Sunday night there was a steady rain, just what the corn needed for a good start.

Hillsboro Escapes Court Decision

HILLSBORO — The U. S. Supreme Court decision against segregation in the public schools will have no effect on the all-Negro Lincoln elementary school here, officials said today.

Plans have been underway for some time for the construction of two new schools. When they are completed, the Lincoln school will be abandoned, it was stated. Both white children and Negroes will attend both new schools, officials said.

Ohio), committee chairman, is sponsoring a bill to give the Federal Communications Commission authority to set rules and regulations for radio and TV networks. The senator contends that whether or not a TV station can get network programming often determines if a new one can start up or an old one continue operating.

TV set makers, of course, would like to see every part of the country covered with TV stations offering top programs.

Here's Chance To Tote Up Rating For Your Hometown

WASHINGTON C. H.—How would you rate your hometown? This challenging question, already tested in several other communities, has stirred this Fayette County seat.

The Washington C. H. Record-Herald is conducting the poll—made up of 40 questions, each to be answered "yes" or "no." If you can answer "yes" to 30 or more of the 40 questions, say the sponsors, you can be proud of your hometown.

Otherwise, you may find cause to stop, reflect and start making some changes.

The questionnaire started in Pennsboro, W. Va. (pop. 1,753). The results prodded this small town into buying 350 acres of nearby land, building two lakes and a well-equipped recreational area.

In another town, a Chamber of Commerce member declared as he started to fill out the questionnaire: "I would be almost afraid to use it; we've been asleep too many years."

Here are the 40 questions: rate your own hometown—remembering you need 30 or more "yes" answers to reassure you that you have a "good" hometown:

1. Most high school graduates stay in town. Yes No
2. Getting a loan on a sound business venture is easy. Yes No
3. The local paper constantly pushed civic improvements. Yes No
4. There's a Chamber of Commerce with a live-wire manager. Yes No
5. Local speeders pay the same fines as out-of-towners. Yes No
6. There's a place to swim within easy reach. Yes No
7. Young couples have little trouble finding a place to live. Yes No
8. The head of your government is a "get-things-done" man. Yes No
9. Town entrances are free from junk, shacks and billboards. Yes No
10. Teachers salaries are better than the state average. Yes No
11. There's at least one doctor per 800 people in your county. Yes No
12. There's a library with a good collection of recent books. Yes No
13. Newcomers quickly feel they're part of the town. Yes No

NO T-H CHANGES
CHANGES IN THE Taft-Hartley Act are not in the cards so far as this session of Congress is concerned. Because the changes proposed could hardly be classed as improvements in the act, it is no loss to the nation that the Senate, by a vote of 50 to 42, sent the bill back to the labor committee, in effect killing it for this year.

A Democratic complaint was that the Senate Labor Committee refused to consider any changes other than those recommended by the President. The President's recommendations, which in fact were exclusively incorporated in the bill, were designed to make the act more acceptable to big labor.

Senator Goldwater of Arizona tried for an amendment to the bill which would have outlawed compulsory union membership nationally. Sixteen states have passed legislation making compulsory membership in a labor union in gaining or holding employment illegal.

The law, in spite of objections by labor bosses, has worked rather well. Instead of being a "slave labor law," as professional agitators have charged, it has not been effective in curbing abuses by unions, in the opinion of many persons. But the act has been on the statute books for so long that it is doubtful whether radical changes will be made in it in the near future.

YOUNG GIANT
A STRATEGIC statistical barrier has been crossed by the American aviation industry with production of its 500,000th airplane. The industry dates back to the Wrights' first successful experimental plane of a half century ago; but half of its production has been chalked up in the last 10 years. The climactic war production of 1944 accounted for nearly 100,000 ships.

Though a relatively young industry, aircraft manufacturing has made an enormous contribution to America, in terms both of national economy and security. And it is a robust young giant.

According to figures of the Aircraft Industries Association, earnings of the 12 leading aircraft manufacturers last year reached an all-time high of $116 million on sales of $5.1 billion. Only wartime sales in 1943 and 1944 were greater.

There is still a hefty backlog of orders, mostly from the government. At the beginning of the year unfilled orders of the top 12 manufacturers exceeded $11 billion, or two years' production at present output rates. Prospects after 1956 will depend on many factors, the international situation being foremost.

It's a foregone conclusion, though, that so long as there is a strong America there will be a vital aircraft industry.

Scientist who claims there is no such thing as time may have been listening to jazz music.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news
WASHINGTON — Military and moral reasons underlie the Eisenhower-Dulles refusal to throw troops into Indochina to make the same stand against Communist expansion and aggression that we did in Korea. The two situations, differ entirely, as President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have explained in blunt language to the statesmen at London, Paris and on Capitol Hill.
The Administration's refusal to intervene in Indochina, in view of the background to be described here, heralds a major change and advance in United States foreign policy. It is as important in its worldwide implications and repercussions as the Monroe Doctrine and the Marshall Plan. And, in tribute to its real author, it should become known in history books as the Dulles Declaration.
Simply phrased, it means that the United States, alone or in alliance with other nations, will never fight to preserve the ancient and outmoded system of colonialism. We will go to war only when and where the countries attacked by the Red hordes are struggling for absolute independence, and show that they are willing to fight for it themselves. Those conditions do not exist in Indochina.
JUSTIFIED — There is a final and conclusive qualification. Not wanting to squander what Wendell Willkie called our "reservoir of good will" after his international tour in early 1941, we will not engage in war unless we can justify our belligerency before the court of world opinion. We must have angels as well as aircraft on our side.
Finally, we will not "go it alone," as we did virtually in Korea. We will not rely on the United Nations because Russia's veto on the Security Council can block any positive action, and because, as the Korean "police action" demonstrated, the U. N. is not a military organization.
We are not, however, abdicating our role as the world's major and strongest anti-Communist bulwark. We simply insist that the nations and peoples under Red guns, whether it be France or Indochina, bestir themselves instead of relying solely on Uncle Sam.
TRADITION — In view of this revision and restatement of American foreign policy, it is now obvious why we could not agree to the Laniel-Bidault plea for active military reinforcement of the symbolic but overrated jungle fortress at Dien Bien Phu.
In Korea, we fought because a republic whose independence and eventual unity we had guaranteed at the ill-fated Cairo Conference, had been assailed, wanton by North Korean and Chinese Communists. Our national honor was at stake. We were upholding American traditions and treaties.
To have intervened in Indochina would have placed the United States in the position of preserving a colonial system of economic oppression and subjection. It would have furnished fresh evidence to support Molotov's recurrent charges that the U. S. is an "imperialistic and warmongering power."
In short, we are now waging both a moral and military offensive against Russo-Chinese communism. Although it may result in temporary loss of territory to the free world, it may win us the support of people of good will everywhere. And secretary Dulles believes that they still represent the majority of men and women.
HEALTH — Secretary Dulles' unlined face and other evidences of sturdy health belie his travels and travails, a grinding routine which none of his predecessors suffered. He even sees a humorous aspect of the ordeal.
He recently told this writer of a colloquy with a fellow Cabinet member. In recounting the thousands of miles he has covered on diplomatic errands, Dulles remarked that he could not have traversed so much territory, had it not been for the airplane.
"True, John," remarked the listener. "But had it not been for the airplane as a weapon of atomic war and a destroyer of time and space, you would not have had to make so many diplomatic trips."
Sadly, Secretary Dulles agreed.

George E. Sokolsky's These Days
The quips of Harry Truman may, in his old age, establish the most recent ex-President as a sharp phrase-maker. Most recently he invented the term, "Creeping McKinleyism," which apparently is to offset the term, "Creeping Socialism," invented by another ex-President, Herbert Hoover. Perhaps this is to be the era of the creeps.
McKinleyism is an indefinable term. William McKinley was President during a prosperous period in American history when "The Full Dinner Pail" was a slogan and "The Eight-Hour Day" a demand. It was a time of sound money based on the gold standard when wages were not too high and Andrew Carnegie could look upon $50,000 a year as a great income. It was a period of enormous developments in industry and commerce in this country.
McKinley was President from 1897 to 1901 when he was assassinated and a nation wept. His had been a prosperous era, following the depression of the Cleveland Administration. Even the New Dealers ought to say a word for McKinley because government employment rose from 192,000 to 256,000 during his Administration. Government receipts rose from $347,721,000 to $587,685,000 and there were no punitive income taxes, no devastating inheritance taxes.
The government debt was trifling, never rising much over $1 million. The expenditures of government were also comparatively small, only reaching $600 million during the year after the limited Spanish American War.
The population was a rising one, increasing during the period between 1897 and 1901 from 72 million to 77 million. The flow was still from East to West, from the seaboard cities to the open spaces. Immigration from European countries continued to be large, although it did not reach the enormous mass migrations of the next decade. During the McKinley years, 1,708,336 immigrants came to the United States from Europe.
It was then that the large immigrations from Italy really began, reaching 100,000 in 1900. Immigration from Russia, largely Jewish, began to reach sizeable proportions in the McKinley era.
New industries came into existence. In fact, it was during the McKinley Administration that the typical enormous American corporation appeared, often as an amalgamation of existing small and non-integrated industries. The non-war-induced industry witnessed its sharpest rise during the Administration of William McKinley.
Money and business do not altogether reflect the status of the individual. Are human beings happier on the gold standard than when they are living on depreciated currency? Those who think in terms of the mass, seek for what they call an average man. There is none such.
It can be said that during the McKinley Administration those engaged in the ownership or management of business, that is, banking in its numerous forms, manufacturing, transportation or the distribution of goods, enjoyed unusual opportunities for self-advancement, for the accumulation of wealth and social status. Such people lived in what has come to be known as the "Gay Nineties" and enjoyed it. Their number was on the constant increase, the recruitment being largely from the farming and white collar elements, although many artisans advanced themselves.

DIET AND HEALTH
Cancer of the Stomach Is Difficult to Detect
By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
CANCER of the stomach is a shockingly successful killer because it has no early symptoms to identify it. It is the most common cause of death among all cancers and alone accounts for forty thousand deaths in this country every year.
The reason for the great number of deaths is perhaps the difficulty of diagnosis. There are no signs that come early enough to sound a warning and order prompt surgery. When the person finally complains of vague and mild symptoms the disease may be far advanced. Thus, many patients do not begin treatment until the cancer has spread too far.
The Silent Killer
One out of every nine hundred persons over the age of forty have been shown through routine examination to have an ulcer of the stomach. A number of these ulcers, so called, are actually cancer in its early stages.
Anyone having suspicious stomach symptoms, such as nausea, pain, or blood in the bowel movements, should have a complete X-ray examination to help determine the cause. It is only in this way that many early cases of cancer of the stomach can be detected.
The most important method of diagnosing this disease is to have an X-ray with the stomach outlined with a substance known as barium. There are those who believe that any case of indigestion that lasts for more than a week should be immediately investigated in order to determine if there is any change in the stomach that could mean an early cancer.
New Life Saver
A new method of detecting stomach cancer has also been developed. An abrasive balloon on the end of a tube is passed into the stomach. This balloon scrapes off cells which can later be examined in order to determine the presence of any cancer cells. With more vigilance, more and more cancers will be caught early enough to be remedied by surgery.
QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. A. F.: Is it true that blindness due to diseases of the cornea can now be helped?
Answer: In recent years, medical techniques have been devised by which through an operation, a defective cornea may be removed and a corneal disc from another individual substituted. Eye banks have been set up throughout the country for this purpose.

Joan Foster, Bride

SYNOPSIS
After a long and arduous courtship, Joan Foster and Todd Hunter had set a date for their wedding. It will not be easy to live graciously on Todd's meager school-teacher salary, nor to share the manse in New Jersey, with his frail father, the minister, and his gentle though possessive mother. But this simple beginning will mean living their lives together, and that is what they want most of all. Joan and her mother discuss nuptial plans with Joan's old classmate, Betty, who is already happily married and the mother of a lovely little girl. They decide upon a formal church wedding, with Todd's father officiating. There will be a reception and simple buffet tea later at the Foster home. The widowed Mrs. Foster and Todd's parents, too, are well pleased with this impending alliance. And now with the wedding but a few days off, guests from out-of-town arrive, and many gay parties follow.
CHAPTER ELEVEN
THAT had been night before last. What had happened yesterday? For a moment Joan could not remember.
Oh, yes! There had been presents coming in all Friday morning—the way they had been for the last two weeks—with Elaine unwrapping them and listing them for Joan in her bride's book. Then Betty appeared again just before noon. Then the dresses had arrived. Never mind if it was almost the last minute. They had arrived. And of course these must be tried on immediately. All of them fitted perfectly except Betty's. Hers was too long. But Anne Bannock, who taught sewing and home economics, had promised she would fix anything that needed fixing. Such a relief not to have to dash in to New York about the matter!
By then it was well after noon and Elaine had taken Joan and Pamela and Betty and Joan's mother and Todd's mother out to lunch. Trust Elaine to do the sumptuous thing! She had engaged a huge limousine that would accommodate them all and off they had gone to a new and charming inn located on top of the Palisades, where they could look right off over the Hudson river. It had been beautiful.
Diane had not been with them. She had insisted upon remaining behind and taking charge of what ever needed to be taken charge of, with Jack as her right hand helper. There had been the vases to collect. And the punch glasses to get over from the church house. And the folding chairs and long tables. Of course, the janitor and Jack were to do the actual moving of the things, but Diane had felt that she ought to be there to superintend. Perhaps, too, she was a little keen over Jack, Joan thought suddenly.
The men—Todd and Don and Tom—who were all free as air, had gone in to New York for a stag lunch. Michael was not able to join them as he could not get away from his job in Poughkeepsie until five o'clock that afternoon.
Friday night. Last night. It was then that Mrs. Hunter had invited the bride party over to the manse. She had really done things up beautifully. Mrs. Brown had come in with a helper and had served a marvelous turkey dinner at the old mahogany table in the large manse dining room. There had been candlelight and fragile china and the Hunters' lovely heirloom silver gleaming on the table and great Empire sideboard. The girls had all worn semi-formals, and it had been at that party that Joan and Todd had handed out their gifts to their bridesmaids and ushers. Joan had selected small handbags of some new fabric that was multi-colored and bright and dainty and that would go with any summer dress. Todd had chosen neat little leather week-end kits.
Joan sighed and stretched now in blissful contentment, remembering it all. The buffet supper on her porch. The dancing. The moonlight swim. Elaine's lovely luncheon. The dinner at the manse. And, finally, the rehearsal in the church. The girls in their semi-formals had looked lovely coming down the aisle as they had practiced.
Joan's thoughts went on. She had everything anyone's heart could desire. All the satisfaction in the world with her bridal party, with the guests, too, and even with the gifts among which there had not been a single "white elephant." And hardly even a duplicate. It was amazing, really. Someone must certainly have passed around word concerning her choice of a pattern for her crystal, china and silver, because she had received almost a dozen of everything.
Nor was that all that had come to her. The whole town, whether invited to the reception or not, had apparently wanted to honor the young couple for friendship's sake. She had really felt overwhelmed.
She began to enumerate to herself the presents that she could remember. Some of the gifts were elegant, some simple, all given straight from the heart.
Joan reviewed now, the long hours of toil spent in fixing their apartment.
After Todd came home from the city they had toiled together. They had dragged out old boxes and barrels left there for ages when the rooms had been used for storage. They had filled in cracks where the plaster had fallen out. They had extracted bent and rusty nails from the woodwork and scrubbed the floors and washed the windows. Then they had begun painting. They had whitewashed the ceiling, they had spread a warm and cheerful yellow over all the walls and they had covered the wide floor boards with a serviceable gray. Today their little apartment presented a spotless and inviting appearance.
Her dream of buying antiques for her new home had simply gone out of the window. There was no money. They would have to get along with whatever the two families could spare them from their homes.
"At least," Joan thought, "our bedroom will look nice."
Her glance moved around her

Church Societies Conduct Mother-Daughter Banquet

Ringgold Church Women Honored

The Women's Society of World Service and the Girls' Missionary Guild of East Ringgold Evangelical United Brethren church held an annual Mother-Daughter banquet in Circleville Service Center.

A total of 36 mothers and daughters were present for the dinner, which was prepared by Mrs. Opal Betz and her committee.

The dining tables were centered with arrangements of Spring flowers, with crepe paper streamers in aqua and grey. Pastel parasols and programs with colorful ribbons served as place favors. Mrs. Erna Sharpe was in charge of decorations.

40 Winks Become 40 Blinks When Insomniacs Get Started

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Lately I've been running into a lot of sleepless wives.
Can't figure out the reason, but naturally this sleeplessness must be caused by husbands.
When a man gets insomnia, he generally shoulders the full responsibility for it himself. He figures he drank too much coffee, ate the wrong combination of foods, or else took his business or personal worries home with him.
A wife approaches the problem from the opposite direction. "I can't sleep," she muses. "Why? What has my husband been up to now?"
Her only task then is to find something her husband has done wrong. As this isn't very difficult for the average wife, she pins down his latest error, bawls him out roundly, and then is able again to sleep the sleep of the just.

Sometimes a husband discovers his wife's insomnia has been caused not by something he did—but something he didn't do.
"Why didn't you stop me from eating that rich dessert last night?" she tells him. "You knew it wouldn't agree with me. But there you sat like a complete dolt, and let me go right on eating it. Sometimes I don't know what I'm going to do with you. I never slept a wink."

Every husband over the years gets thoroughly familiar with that wifely phrase—"I never slept a wink." For some reason known only to women, however, you never hear a wife admit, "Well, I slept a wink last night."

There are several common types of insomnia among wives, and perhaps you have one of the following in your own home:

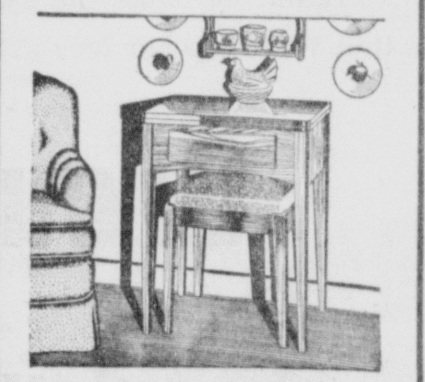

1. The empty stomach insomniac—This plump lady wakes up every hour on the hour, then raids the refrigerator, wolfs down half a chicken and sleeps like a baby for another hour. Her real problem is that she hates to waste time sleeping when she could be eating. The best way to solve the situation is to move the refrigerator to her bedside, or else set her up a cot in the kitchen.
2. The choker—She wraps her arms around her husband's neck, slowly throttling him. The last words he hears just before he blacks out unconscious are her moans, "why can't I sleep?" If you check this wife's family tree, you will probably find that her great great grandmother was a boa constrictor.
3. The false insomniac—This wife snores like a den of roaring lions from midnight until 8 a. m., then looks accusingly over at her red-eyed sleepless husband and says, "you simply have got to do something about your snoring. It kept me awake all night."
4. The traveling insomniac—she wraps herself in a sheet and two blankets and prowls the house in search of sleep. She dozes in every bed and chair and winds up on the living room rug. But as soon as her husband goes to work, she lies down on a couch and sleeps like an angel all day.
5. The intermittent dreamer—"I just dreamed I was walking barefoot in my nightgown through a meadow full of $1,000 bills," she says, shaking her husband awake. "What does that mean?"
6. The suspicious insomniac—

She steals herself to stay awake all night hoping her husband will talk in his sleep and reveal the name of the blonde she is sure he is keeping on the sly.
7. The share-and-share alike insomniac—"Don't you dare go to sleep before I do," she sternly warns her husband. "Marriage is a 50-50 business. If I can't sleep, why should you?"
What can a man do to cure his wife's insomnia? Of course, he should smother her with sympathy and understanding. But the best thing he can do is earn more money for her. Nothing relaxes a woman better or puts her in more of a restful mood than spending a lot of money.
The worst thing a husband can do is to tell his wife, "why don't you do a little more work? The reason you can't sleep is you are overtired from doing nothing so hard all day long."

Court's Decision Gets Good Press

LONDON (AP)—The American Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in U. S. public schools has won a good press over the non-Communist world, something the U. S. frequently doesn't get.
In India, seat of much anti-American feeling, non-Red members of Parliament acclaimed the decision as unanimously as the judges had ruled. The powerful Indian Express chain of newspapers in New Delhi, Bombay and Madras welcomed the ruling as a "healthy change in enlightened American opinion."
London's Laborite Daily Herald said the antisegregation ruling "will make every friend of democracy cheer."

Lad Points To Man Who Injured Him

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Oh, you caught the man who threw me out of the car," four-year-old Kenny Broyles said today when detectives brought a 25-year-old ex-convict to his hospital bedside.
Later, said Inspector James E. McArthur, the man, Clarence Jones, Cleveland foundry worker, admitted he picked the boy up in his car, drove to suburban Lakewood, and got drunk on a bottle of whisky.
"Then I blacked out," McArthur quoted Jones as saying. "I don't remember anything after that."
Little Kenny, who is recovering from a broken right thigh and severe head and body bruises, was found early Saturday on railroad tracks under a street overpass.
When the boy identified Jones, McArthur asked him again: "Are you sure?"
"That's the man. Where did you see him?" the youngster answered. The identification was tightened further when Kenny recalled seeing a pair of white baby shoes dangling inside the windshield of the green car in which he was abducted.
McArthur said Jones was paroled last year from the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield where he was sent Jan. 12, 1948, after conviction of assault to rape and

Change Of Pleas Lowers Penalty

OMAHA (AP)—When Esther Brooks of Omaha appeared before County Judge Robert Troyer on a drunk driving charge, she pleaded innocent.
Judge Troyer held trial and found her guilty.
He paused and commented, "In fairness to persons who plead guilty and indicate they are sorry, this case should not merit the minimum penalty."
Defense Atty. Philip Abboud came to his feet fast with a motion to withdraw the innocent plea and substitute a guilty plea. Judge Troyer accepted the motion and put the penalty at $100 fine and suspension of driver's license for six months—the minimum penalty.

Make This 60 Second "Tablespoon Test" And GROW A LAWN LIKE THIS IN 7 DAYS!

Make This 7 Day Test on Your Lawn! See for yourself how fast-acting RX-15 can turn your sick-looking grass into a rich carpet of lawn. Dissolve 1 tablespoon of RX-15 in a gallon of water and write the letters of your name right on your lawn. It takes only 60 seconds . . . yet in 7 days from today you'll see that RX-15 treated lawn growing so much thicker, greener, faster than your untreated section, you'll actually be able to read your name in the grass. And if you don't get these amazing results, simply send back the unused portion of RX-15 and get back every penny you paid for it.

SCIENTISTS' FORMULA SHOOTS FANTASTIC GROWING POWER INTO LAWNS, PLANTS AND VEGETABLES INSTANTLY! Now Grow Flowers, Shrubs, Trees In Virtually Any Soil—Even Sand. Watch "Dying" Lawns Grow Richer, Thicker, Greener In 7 Days! YOUR CHANCE TO TRY RX-15 WITHOUT RISKING A PENNY!

This season how would you like to make your flowers bloom by the thousands weeks ahead of your neighbors—double the growing power of undernourished shrubs, trees, hedges, vegetables? Grow a richer, thicker, greener lawn in just 7 days with just 1 sprinkle from a watering pail? Then read this article!

It tells how now, YOU who may know next-to-nothing about gardening can turn your garden into the show-place of the community with thousands of colorful, flaming blossoms—not five years from now—not next year—but this season even if right now you don't have a seed in the ground—even if your soil is undernourished.

How with normal garden care YOU can pick basketfuls of meat-packed garden fresh tomatoes, luscious heads of lettuce—sweet, tender cucumbers, corn and peas from a vegetable patch right in your own backyard. How YOU can amaze the so-called experts in your neighborhood with a rich, thick carpet of lawn—and you won't even have to dirty your hands digging messy, evil-smelling manures into the soil.

"Why Won't Flowers Grow In My Backyard?"

If flowers won't grow for you—no matter how hard you try—in case after case it's been proven that your soil is to blame. Science tells us that almost 90% of all garden soils are deficient in at least one of the 10 vital minerals a plant needs to bloom and flourish. And if you starve a plant of even one of these life-giving soil minerals you won't get many flowers no matter how much sun and water you give it—no matter how many hours you slave in your garden.

Thousands of Flowers For Only a Few Minutes Extra Work!

And now do you realize what RX-15 means to you? It means that today you can go out with a sprinkling can and in a few minutes start to shoot new life into your garden. Revitalize your whole undernourished lawn . . . give it results you never dreamed possible in 7 days.
It means that, whether you're an expert gardener or the greenest beginner now with normal garden care you can grow masses of beautiful roses, dahlias, phlox, gladiolus and chrysanthemums in your garden this season with a sprinkling of RX-15 once or twice a month. It means that no matter how starved your soil may be now, with a few sprinkles of RX-15 you can grow a thick, green lawn the very first time you try—and it will only cost you pennies to apply it! It means that you can grow hundreds of flowers in your window boxes—grow thousands of flowers this season from plants you already have in your garden, from seeds you can still put in the ground.

And because RX-15 instantly feeds plants all the life-giving soil minerals they need for healthy bloom, it means that merely sprinkling with RX-15 can make starved, undernourished lawns, trees, shrubs, houseplants start to spring back to new life instantly!
It means that very possibly you may still pick basket after basket of plump fruits from trees, that stopped producing years ago.
You'll be amazed at the way scraggly plants, seedlings, shrubs, bulbs and trees start shooting out new buds, stems, branches—the way they produce thicker, greener, bigger leaves and flowers even in the most mineral-starved soil, when you sprinkle them with a spoonful of RX-15 dissolved in water . . . and it goes to work instantly!

We want you to try RX-15 on your own lawn for 7 days at our risk. Test it on flowering plants, bulbs, seedlings. Test it on fruit trees, shrubs, hedges, vegetables . . . on anything that grows—on anything that's hard to grow. And if your lawn isn't richer, greener, thicker in 7 days—if those hard-to-grow plants don't start to take on new life—if the foliage isn't greener, more luxuriant—if this season you don't see more buds, sprouts, flowers shooting out on your RX-15 treated plants than you've ever had before—then send back the unused portion and get back every penny you paid for it.

Supplies Limited—You Must Act Today!

Middletown Studies Result Of Its New Youth Contest

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (P) — The first year of a completely new idea for recognition of outstanding accomplishments by high school seniors has come to a close in this midwestern manufacturing city.

Nine teenagers representing the three high schools in the area received a total of $1,500 in cash for being "self-reliant."

The Junior Chamber of Commerce administered the W. W. Seabald Self-Reliance Award which started at the beginning of this school term. The Jaycee judges, with a total potential of more than 500 students, had 241 applications for the awards.

The program was established by Seabald, president of Armo Steel Corp., to find students who have made the best use of their time during the three years of high school.

The judges talked with teachers, ministers, all employers — from parents who had hired the students as baby-sitters to industrialists who had hired them for summer work — to determine the work records in school, church, community and work for pay areas.

They explained the project was not a scholarship . . . not a citizenship award. It was established to find the youngsters who have done the most they can with the best they have.

First place winner for girls was Marie Bond, senior in Middletown High School. Miss Bond has been leaving school at noon, as part of the school's co-op program, and working as a stenographer. After her afternoon's work is done in the office, she reports to a local restaurant where she works seven evenings a week as a waitress. With her money she is supporting her ill mother and paying her own expenses. Miss Bond was awarded $400 in cash.

First place for boys, also $400 cash prize, was won by Martin Egelston, who gets up at 4:30 each morning to milk cows on this 167-acre farm which he has supervised and developed. His father works in a local paper mill. After school Martin works the farm and preaches and conducts revivals in the area for his church after sundown and on Sundays. He is an honor student at Middletown.

Other girl winners were Nancy Yocom, second place, $200; Elaine Bailey, third, $100; Loretta Largent, fourth, $50.

The other boy winners were Douglas Alder, second place, $200;

Earl Pressler, third, $100; and tied for fourth, Ralph Taylor and Harold Burgess, $50 each.

The judges honored 20 finalists for the awards, giving each an award pin and working with top business and industrial leaders to get summer jobs or full time positions for those who wanted them. Many of the youngsters already had jobs they wanted to keep after graduation.

The winners were announced at a banquet last night.

The students were happy with the new idea of rewarding self-reliant people.

One of the twenty described his feeling during the personal interviews when he told the judges:

"On senior day, I get to teach the sophomores and juniors in my high school. I'm going to tell 'em about me. Who ever thought I'd get a chance at any school award? I've never been on the honor roll and I failed twice. 'I've had to work all the time after school. I'm going to tell the other kids, so they won't think just the big shots' kids win all the prizes like they used to. Does that sound like a silly idea? I mean tellin' 'em about me? Does it?"

To the judges who now have a renewed faith in the younger generation, it sure doesn't.

Pettibone Assumes New State Duties

Charles L. Pettibone of Ashville took over his new duties Wednesday as assistant director of the State Department of Industrial Relations, a branch in which he previously served.

His appointment was announced recently by Margaret A. Mahoney, department director.

She recalled that Pettibone was appointed an inspector in the Division of Factory and Building Inspection in 1945, under the first administration of Governor Lausche, was appointed assistant chief and later chief of division in 1946. With the change in administration in 1947, he resigned as chief and served as assistant chief until May 1948, when he resigned to accept appointment with an architectural firm.

Later he was appointed to the Board of Building Standards by Governor Herbert to fill a vacancy on that board. He was reappointed to the board by Governor Lausche in 1951 to serve until July 31, 1955.

PETTIBONE IS a member of the Lutheran Church of Ashville. Prior to assuming his state post in 1945, he was in the contracting business with his father.

Since leaving the state in 1948, he has been superintendent of construction for two architectural and engineering firms. Pettibone was a member of the Building Code and Housing Committee of the Ohio Program Commission in 1949 and 1952 and its successor, the Building Code Revision Committee.

Birds-And-Bees Briefing Needed

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (P) — A 7-year-old first-grader here confided to his teacher that his parents were expecting a b-a-b-y.

"What is that?" he asked. Teacher told him.

"And Daddy told me," the lad exclaimed, "It was just another brat."

Sokolsky's These Days

The farmers were troubled by the scarcity of money and their dependence upon New York financing to move the crops. Modern means of agriculture were just asserting themselves; the automobile was not yet a general commodity and good roads were unknown. The Democratic Party, particularly in the Middle West, was being swayed by a radical concept, Populism, which might be described as a conservative New Deal.

The worker was just beginning to be organized in what was then called "trade unions," a non-socialistic, voluntary form of labor union which developed into the great American Federation of Labor led by the conservative Samuel Gompers. Eugene V. Debs, on the other hand, strove for Socialistic labor unionism similar to that in European countries and made little progress. The objective of labor was a dollar a day for an eight-hour day, if they could get it.

For most workers, life was tough, particularly for the immigrant groups, but as all of them came from countries where life was very much tougher and the standards much lower, these workers actually felt that they had improved their lot by coming to the United States. The current era in which we live really begins with McKinley. Who knows? It may end in the Indochina War. "Creeping McKinleyism" may be a restoration of a common sense reappraisal of American life.

Weekly Food Review

By Associated Press

There'll be a well-rounded list of good buys in the nation's foodstores this weekend, with the emphasis once again on beef, veal and chickens.

Prominently mentioned as specials in beef were rib roast (down two to five cents a pound from last week), chuck roast, pot roast and round steak. Sirloin steak will sell for about the same as a week ago in most stores.

Some stores will pare four cents a pound from their prices for leg or rump of veal and veal shoulder roast. Veal chops will be a bit lower in a number of markets.

You'll find frying and roasting chickens at featured prices in a good many markets. And more stores will be offering turkeys as a weekend special. Most meat men consider turkeys rather a good buy these days.

Incidentally, it looks as if there will be plenty of turkeys for months to come. Poultrymen estimate that this year's crop will be 7 to 10 per cent above the 56 million birds raised last year.

Leg of lamb will cost you about the same as a week ago, but pork chops will be higher. They'll be up 11 cents a pound in the Los Angeles outlets of one big chain, up a dime in New York, four cents in Pittsburgh and Washington, D. C., and six cents in Boston and Jacksonville.

Butter prices will show practically no change from a week ago. Eggs, generally lower last week, will be up two to six cents a dozen in some areas and down a couple of cents in others.

Cabbage, green beans and spinach head the list of outstanding vegetable buys. Reasonable prices also will be found on cucumbers, big Boston and romaine lettuce, peppers, radishes, potatoes and onions.

Produce men continue to list strawberries as the best buy in fruit. Meanwhile, they herald the arrival of more plums from Texas and cherries from California. It's expected that the first apricots will be arriving in eastern markets next week from California.

More cantaloupes are rolling to market, the majority coming from Texas and Mexico. The first few have shown up from Arizona and California.

Another good buy, produce men add, is rhubarb, most of it grown locally.

Fruits going higher at wholesale this week included California oranges, grapefruit and apples. Florida da oranges sold at about the same price as a week ago.

No one raised coffee prices this week, but one roaster said another jump might be necessary in the next couple of months.

Planning to celebrate National Pickle Week? It starts today (Thursday). The National Pickle Packers Assn. says 30½ million cases of pickles were consumed last year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even Thurstons the magician would get eyestrain trying to watch the rabbit to see what it was in the Senate investigation of the Army-Carthy fight.

The hearings, which started April 22, seemed all but dead last Monday after they were shut down for a week. They're supposed to start up again next Monday. That's no sure bet.

The inquiry began as an attempt to find out who was lying—Secretary of the Army Stevens and his aides or Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his aides—in their bushel basket of charges and countercharges. But now McCarthy says that from his viewpoint "the all-important thing is the motive—who started this, who is responsible for the Army charges."

After some confusion on who did start it, Stevens yesterday said he was responsible. He'll probably have to repeat that under oath. If and when he does, McCarthy may say he's still not convinced. If he insists finding the motive takes precedence over finding the truth or falsity of the charges, he may use it as a reason for walking out without testifying.

No one yet has explained how the Senate subcommittee making the investigation could force McCarthy to testify or even attend the inquiry if he didn't want to. He couldn't be arrested and brought in.

McCarthy is in Washington on state business. And under the Constitution no senator can be arrested while serving as a senator except for treason, a felony or a breach of the peace. However, he has never said he wouldn't testify, and he has taken the stand once briefly already.

Yet after all this time only two of the main witnesses—Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams—have been called on for full testimony and neither of them has testified yet.

Four main witnesses remain to be called: McCarthy; his subcommittee's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn; his chief of staff, Francis P. Carr; and H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense.

Before they ever finish, if the hearing lasts that long, squads of other witnesses undreamed of now may be pulled into the case.

Nevertheless, Sen. Mundt (R-SD), acting subcommittee chairman who said the hearings will begin again Monday, predicted they'd wind up in about 10 days after that.

That may turn out to be as dreamy as the predictions made before the hearings started the first time: that they'd be over in 10 days or two weeks.

This investigation has taken strange twists and turns, including the many hours lost by the investigating senators in their search for a way to save time. The strangest came when President Eisenhower got into the picture:

He refused—on the constitutional grounds that the Senate had no right to nose into private conversations among his advisers—to let the Senate subcommittee question some of those advisers.

Adams said he had talked with

Candidate Finally Beats Red Tape

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—It took Clarence R. Bristol of Ansley three tries to file for governor of Nebraska before he made it official. A week ago he appeared at the Statehouse to complete the filing. He mislaid that time because he didn't have a receipt for the fee required in a candidate's home county.

Two days later, he mailed in a receipt for a $50 fee. That backfired because $50 is the fee for filing for U. S. senator while for governor it is $10.

On the third try he got it all straightened out and his name officially went among the list of Republican candidates for nomination.

HST's Anti-Red Efforts Lauded

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP)—Here's one Republican who wants to give Democratic former President Harry Truman "credit for trying to use the Communists for three years in Korea."

Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn.), chairman of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East and a onetime medical missionary in Asia, told the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs convention last night: "If the Communists hadn't gotten tied up in Korea they would have gone directly to Indochina and, by this time, they would have it. During the Korean War, the truth of communism leaked out."

Visiting Bankers Sound Thug Alarm

SALAM, Mass. (AP)—Officials of the North Shore Bank and Banking Co. were showing their new quarters to a group of visiting bankers yesterday when police rushed up with riot guns and pistols.

Police said the new type burglar alarm which does not sound in the bank had gone off at police headquarters.

Bank Manager T. H. Millea Jr. explained with some embarrassment the visitors probably set it off accidentally.

However, he said he was pleased to learn the alarm worked so well.

SANDUSKY (AP)—Funeral services will be held Friday for Frank C. Gilcher, 76, retired superintendent of the Lake Shore Coach Co.

them about alleged improper pressures from McCarthy's office, and was advised to list them in writing. The chronology later grew into the Army charges now before the senators.

McCarthy cried, in effect: "Who really pulled the strings? Did Stevens and Adams and Hensel make the charges against me and my staff on their own or were they pushed into it? Whom am I fighting here?"

The other senators said that was a good question. They wanted to find out, too, and suspended the hearings last Monday to see if Eisenhower could be persuaded to let them question his advisers.

He still said no yesterday and Stevens jumped in to say the Army alone was responsible for the charges. It was after hearing this that McCarthy, perhaps not convinced, said the motive behind the charges was the main point.

Dog Catcher Is Over-Worked

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP)—City Manager James Carter complained that people are bringing dogs from near and far "to dump them on the edge of the city limits." He estimated Dog Catcher Bob Terrell nabs about 100 stray pooches a month in this city of 23,000.

"The city's stray dog population is growing faster than the dog catcher can catch them," the city manager said.

Pseudo-Minister Sent To Prison

BALTIMORE (AP)—Robert F. McFarlane was sent to prison for three years yesterday because police said he had a custom of ordering pianos and organs for churches, then selling them without paying the music firms in full.

The 50-year-old defendant posed as a minister when operating his scheme, it was testified.

McFarlane pleaded he had made restitution of all but $800 and was prepared to take care of that.

Revised Bible Use Booming, Survey Shows

15 Denominations Now Using New Version Exclusively, Report

NEW YORK—Increasing use of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible in the curricula of America's churches is shown in the results of a new survey announced by Dr. Richard Holland, chairman of the Committee on the Use and Understanding of the Bible of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

The 39 Protestant denominations which are cooperating members of the Council's Division of Christian Education participated in the survey.

"More and more the RSV is being used as the sole printed text. Sometimes, however, it appears in parallel columns with the King James Version in study material for young people and adults," Dr. Holland stated.

Fifteen denominations with a total church school enrollment of more than 13½ million pupils reported the exclusive use of the RSV in the majority of their quarterly and periodicals. Five additional denominations, enrolling over a million students, reported their use of the RSV in parallel columns with the King James Version, while one, with nearly 200,000 on the rolls, noted that its use is restricted to some units within certain age groups.

"These figures," Dr. Holland said, "supported our confidence in the growing acceptance and use of the RSV." He pointed out that of the total sales of all the various RSV editions has now reached 2,500,000 since the original edition fruit of the press 18 months ago, arrived his number, he said, the illustration and edition released last January expected and more often used in Sunday school curriculum than the other week editions, has already passed the market.

The 15 denominations listing Texas and or almost exclusive use have shown RSV in Sunday Church California, the American Baptist re-Another, its use in all of their grad-add, is irises, with the uniform service locally using both RSV and KJV. From this all but two periodicals, the United Church of Canada in all but a few units, while the Presbyterian Church noted that it is used in all publications, unless otherwise specifically stated. The United Lutheran Church is working towards complete use of the RSV in its curriculum by 1955. In the Disciples of Christ Church the RSV is used in all graded courses, and in its uniform lessons, except in the junior department where the use of parallel columns of the two versions is to be found.

Other denominations reporting exclusive use of the RSV were the Congregational Christian, American Lutheran, Augstana Lutheran, American Evangelical Lutheran, Seventh Day Baptist, and the Evangelical and Reformed. The African

WCTU Seeks Ban On Liquor Ads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union says the liquor industry is "wildly using advertising to break down standards in the home and create juvenile delinquency."

WCTU's views were set forth by its president, Mrs. Glenn G. Hays of Evanston, Ill., in testimony before a House Commerce Committee hearing on legislation to ban interstate advertising of beer, wine and liquor in newspapers and periodicals, on radio and television.

This is an annual battle between wets and dries. In the last four years, the dries have lost.

Ancient Statue Of Christ Found

LONDON (AP)—A stone statue of Christ, believed to date back to the early 16th century, has been found beneath a chapel destroyed by bombs during World War II.

Joan Evans, director of the Society of Antiquaries, and Norman Cook, keeper of the Guildhall Museum, described the figure as "certainly one of the major archeological finds made in London during this century."

The statue, six and a half feet tall, was uncovered by workmen digging five feet below the floor of the bombed-out Mercers' Chapel near St. Paul's Cathedral.

Methodist Episcopal uses both the RSV and the KJV in its study books for adults, as does the Five Year Meeting of Friends. The Baptist Federation of Canada uses the RSV only in the children's and youth publications.

The five denominations using the RSV and the KJV in parallel columns are the Presbyterian Church, U. S., United Presbyterian, Reformed Church in America, Moravian Church in America and the Church of the Brethren. The Protestant Episcopal Church reported that the RSV is being used experimentally.

A truck carrying the big canvas circus tent was lost last weekend, disappeared while traveling between Middletown and Portsmouth. The highway patrol said it has found no trace of the truck.

West Germany's Envoy To U.N. Under Criticism

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Peter Pfeiffer, criticized in the United States as having a Nazi record, will not become West Germany's observer at U. N. headquarters.

A U. N. announcement last night said Pfeiffer's appointment had been withdrawn. Presumably Dr. Hans E. Riesser, present West German observer, will continue in the post.

The Jewish Labor Committee of New York and Rep. Javits (R-NY) were among those who protested after Pfeiffer's appointment was announced last February.

Pfeiffer held diplomatic posts under the Nazis in Prague, Moscow, Paris and Rome. He was classified after the war as only a nominal member of the party, who joined to hold his government job.

Carp-Fishing In Ohio Seen As Excellent For Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This would be a good weekend to get out your bow and arrow and go fishing.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife, in its weekly forecast of lake and stream conditions, said today: "Carp fishermen should enjoy a good weekend of spearing, gigging or with bow and arrow, since carp over most of the state are now spawning in shallow water and may be readily taken."

The outlook, by sections:

Northwestern Ohio: All lakes and streams clear, normal and in good condition. White bass being caught in Sandusky, Seneca and Wood County streams. Grand Lake or Lake St. Marys clear and low, with bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish being taken. East Harbor in Ottawa County in good condition and yielding bass and crappies. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County clear and normal, bass being caught.

Northeastern: Practically all lakes and streams clear, with best fishing results in Portage Lakes in Summit County, Pleasant Hill and Clear Fork reservoirs in Richland, Charles Mill in Ashland, and Milton Lake in Mahoning. Bass, bluegills and crappies biting best, and weekend outlook is good for both streams and lakes.

East Central and Southeastern: Most lakes and streams in good fishable condition. Best fishing, for bass, bluegills and crappies, in such lakes as Burr Oak in Athens and Morgan counties, Clouse and Buckeye in Perry, and Atwood in Tuscarawas. Such streams as Walhonding and Wills in Coshocton County, the Hocking in Hocking, and Muskingum in Morgan and Washington, in good condition and some fish being taken. Weekend outlook good for both streams and lakes.

Central and Southern: All streams and lakes in good shape, with best results in Olenangy, Scioto, Big and Little Darby, Big Walnut and Blacklick creeks. Scioto Brush, Ohio Brush and Symmes Creek in southern portion also yielding good catches. Rocky Fork Lake in Highland, Jackson Lake in Jackson, Buckeye Lake in Fairfield and Madison Lake in Madison all in good condition, with bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish making up the big percentage of catches. General outlook good in all streams and lakes for weekend.

Southwestern: Streams and lakes clear and normal. Fishing pressure the last week was extremely light, although some catches were reported from such lakes as Indian in Logan, Loramie in Shelby, Decker, Swift Run and Echo in Miami, Stonelick in Clermont, Kiser in Champaign, and Grant in Brown County. Bass, crappies and bluegills made up majority of week's catch. General outlook good

HERE'S BASEBALL

Terry's First Base Tips

(This is the fifth in a series of seven articles in which former major league baseball stars tell how to play the game.)

By BILL TERRY
(Written for AP Newsfeatures)

Playing first base is not extremely complicated, but it does have more complex duties than some managers appear to recognize these days the way they stick just anyone at that position.

In reviewing the several duties and maneuvers one expects a good first baseman to perform, and in recalling my own career at first base with the New York Giants, the primary item is one of self-preservation.

The initial lesson to master is to learn how to keep from being spiked by the runner. There is a knack of placing one's foot by the bag instead of on top of it.

Along the line of making contact with the base, there is another thing to remember that is quite important. A good first baseman, will never shift from one foot to the other in changing sides to take a throw. By the same token, he will never flick his foot back at the bag the moment he catches the ball.

That shifting of feet always puts me in mind of a ham actor.

THERE IS, of course, a right and wrong way to hold a man on base. So many first basemen these days play in foul territory while trying to keep a runner close. They should never do that.

Being in fair territory gives the first baseman a jump in getting out toward second for a ground ball. It enables him to give more protection to the second baseman who has inherited some of his territory anyway.

Still talking basic things, those who aspire to be first basemen, or better first basemen, should work on making the double play to second, getting back to the bag in time to complete the play.

Another, and rarer, angle on the same play is where the first baseman tags the batter first then throws to second. This erases the force at second.

The first baseman must know his runners in this example. If the batter is very fast and the man on first much slower, it is wise, if possible, to get the fast man. Then get the slow man, provided there is not a runner in scoring position, else you may never complete the double play.

Other fundamental details of playing first include certain plays such as cut offs on extra base hits. On the latter, the first baseman never leaves his bag until the batter is well around first and too far to come back. One of the maneuvers of this phase includes backing up home plate and being able to make a play there if necessary.

THESE DAYS many men are tried at first base—men who are

Rosen's Bat Unloaded In Record Hunt

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Al Rosen, hefting an "unloaded" bat, goes after a major league record tomorrow—seven home runs in six consecutive games.

The first baseman lost his "lucky" bat after hitting his sixth four-base blow in five games as the Indians trimmed the Boston Red Sox 5-3.

Umpire Charley Berry, prompted by Boston's catcher Sammy White, found nails in the 35-ounce Louisville Slugger Rosen has been using since the start of the season.

Rosen, who pointed out the small "nails weren't in the hitting surface," added he drove them in when the grain in the wood started separating.

He said he thought the Sox "were using psychology to throw me off stride."

Berry said the nails were "common practice," but not permitted by the rules.

Using the old bat, Rosen ran his batting average to .387 while belting nine home runs and batting in 38 scores. The average is the second best in the league and the other two figures are the highest.

"I knew someone was going to catch up with this bat sooner or later," Rosen continued, "but I was going to keep it going as long as possible."

Rosen's hitting accounted for both the Tribe's earned runs against the Sox yesterday. The other three were unearned.

Opportunity Knocks, But Reds Silent

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Opportunity knocked here last night for the Cincinnati Redlegs but the boys just didn't get around to answering the door.

The 3-2 Pittsburgh victory left Cincinnati buried in sixth place. But the Redlegs still are only a game and a half out of first.

One inning of bad pitching wrecked the Redlegs last night.

The Pirates got only six hits off starter Corky Valentine and reliever Joe Nuxhall but they put three of them together in the fifth inning for all of their runs.

Portly Max Surkont allowed the Cincinnati eight hits but once he got out in front he was a hard man to handle.

There was some joy in the Red-leg camp, however, in spite of the defeat. It came from the fact Jim Greengrass got three hits. The sophomore outfielder had been in a terrific slump during which his batting average had dropped to around the .250 mark.

The Redlegs had a 2-0 lead last night before Valentine weakened. Singles by Greengrass, Wally Post and Ed Bailey gave them a run in the second.

They got the other in the fifth as a walk to Post, a single by Bailey and a walk to Bobby Adams were followed by a single by Roy McMillan. Little Curt Roberts then saved the day for the Pirates when he dug Gus Bell's smash out of the ground behind second and turned what looked like a sure hit into a double play.

In the Pirate half of the same frame Sid Gordon singled and Toby Atwell was hit by a pitched ball. Gare Allie walked to load the bases and Bob Hall drove Gordon and Atwell home with a single. Surkont then laid down a squeeze bunt which caught Valentine flat-footed and scored Allie.

Ring King Set For Big Test In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ring King, a Raggedy Ann little colt even to the trainer who made him what-ever racehorse he is, typifies entries being made today for Saturday's Preakness in the face of knowledge that the formidable Correlation and Hasty Road already are down to start.

Trainer Tommy Kelly is full of doubt that Ring King belongs in such a high-caliber race as the $100,000 middle leg of the triple crown. But there's only one way to find out for certain and that's to try, he admits.

It all seemed worthwhile after trainer Kelly suddenly began making Ring King tick. Last year, Ring King failed to race because he had a funny leg action that suggested knee trouble.

Kelly, a 35-year-old native of Pikesville, Md., became trainer for Ada Rice last November. In January, she sent him Ring King in Florida and told him, "Either make him run or break him down."

"I did what the boss told me," relates Kelly. "I made him run. Every time the colt went on the race track I had the exercise boy carry a stick."

At first nothing appeared to result. Ring King ran three times and failed to win. Then he came north to Laurel and won three straight, including two stakes, the Cherry Blossom and Chesapeake.

He ran for the first time since March 27 in the Preakness Prep on Monday and finished third behind Correlation and Hasty Road.

Annual Skeet Championships Due In June

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's topflight shotgun marksmen will swarm into Columbus June 12-13 for the annual skeet championships.

More than 200 of the scattergun enthusiasts are expected to go after the titles, most of which were won a year ago by northeastern Ohio shooters.

Van Smith, a director of the Ohio State Skeet Assn., said he expected 125 to 150 registered shooters to compete, along with 50 to 75 in the non-registered field.

Four major championships will be decided, along with classes in all competitions. More than 30 trophies, in addition to prize money, will be awarded, Smith said.

Four fields, the greatest number ever used for the state meet, will be used to speed the big field through the two-day competition.

The small-bore, sub-small bore and 20-gauge races will be run off Saturday, June 12. The 20-gauge will be at 100 targets, the other two at 50.

Sunday's schedule brings up the all-gauge race at 100 targets.

A year ago at Canton, D. C. Grate of Geauga Lake won the all-gauge title in a shootout with Chet Wood of Cleveland after they tied at 98 of 100. Shirley Hurst of Akron won the women's title with 84, Smith the senior crown with 93, and Fred Gibbs of Canton the junior with 82.

French Net Stars Fail In Tourney

PARIS (AP) — French tennis fans were wondering today if there would be any French players left in their international tennis championships after the second round at the Roland Garros stadium.

No French player was seeded for the tournament, which attracted the top players of the world, and although the best ones got through the first round easily, the

Stock Car Racing Relaxes Limitations

Wide open competition is promised with the announcement by the Four City Racing Club that all limitations, as to types of cars permitted to race, have been removed. Doc Lemon, public relations head for the group, said that from now on any type of car, including so called "hot" types, will be allowed to compete against conventional stock car models.

In addition, Lemon stated, an invitation has been extended by Four City to all other clubs in the area to join together in open racing. He pointed out that this will mean larger purses because there will be more cars competing.

Plans are in the making to extend racing to a five day-a-week affair throughout this area, according to Lemon. He said that more activity will bring more attention to south-central Ohio.

Year's Activities Reviewed By Outgoing PTA President

Accomplishments of the Circleville Parent-Teachers Association during the past year were listed by outgoing president Mrs. George Gerhardt in a recent speech. The talk was given in connection with the formal installation of Dr. William A. Rickey as the new president.

"If each year we can accomplish one or more specific things under each object of the PTA," she said, "our organization will continue to grow. Some of our programs this year received criticism; but even those programs had a purpose and a beneficial background intended."

Mrs. Gerhardt noted what had been done under each objective listed by the PTA. They were:

"1. To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community; the completion of the new gymnasium is to the credit of the PTA.

"2. TO RAISE the standards of home life; a larger physical education program means more children will benefit in health and cleanliness.

"3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; the PTA resolved to support an Ohio constitutional amendment for a state school board. Also, better laws to fight the narcotics problem in Ohio. A letter was written to the President with regard to the exemption of teachers' retirement from federal income tax.

"4. To bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child; primary purpose of PTA meetings is so that the teacher may better understand the child and the parent know what the teacher is trying to accomplish.

"5. To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education; PTA has cooperated in the TB X-ray program, and has set aside a fund for scholarship to be used as a loan fund by anyone needing aid for further education.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed my term of office as president of the Circleville PTA," Mrs. Gerhardt concluded. "My job has been more of a pleasure than a task. A president of an organization is only as good as the committee she appoints. To each one I say, 'Thank you.'"

MRS. GERHARDT, wife of the Circleville City Solicitor, traced her efforts throughout the year. She also noted two important meetings she had attended in connection with PTA. One was the state convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers held in Cincinnati in October of 1953. The other was the Spring Conference in Newark. She acknowledged the other PTA members who were at those meetings also.

Carl Leist, president of the local board of education, talked on the topic of "Friendly Cooperation". He pointed out the needs of Circleville High School for the future saying that six new teachers, three each for the elementary and high schools, would be needed for next year. He also produced facts and figures on the board's income and expenditures.

Leist commended the PTA for their accomplishments. This theme was echoed by the other members of the board.

Dr. David Goldschmidt told of the beginning of the PTA; its hardships and survival in its early years. He also mentioned the beginning of the first grade clinic.

Dr. Richard Samuel talked of the splendid cooperation in the group although attendance has never been, in his opinion, what it should be. He emphasized that the people of Circleville can be counted on to work and cooperate.

MONTY LAMBERT spoke concerning the booth built to carry on the PTA's money making project. He said he had never seen such a good investment.

Ned Harden, fourth member of the board, was not present because of illness. All schools gave their yearly reports showing much accomplishment during the year.

She Didn't Know She Was A Picket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A woman who didn't get a job she wanted complained yesterday to compensation claim officials.

She described the position—at a hotel here that has been picketed for many months—this way: "One of those walking jobs where you carry signs."
